Law Enforcement Records Management Guide Jul 06 2021 Technology has changed considerably since the second edition of the guide was printed. While records continue to be a critical component of the operation of a law enforcement agency, the changes in technology are proving to be a welcome addition to the tools a records manager may have to keep pace with the increasing demands for records storage and retrieval. The manual will provide a glimpse of new technologies and systems that are available to law enforcement today. Since the last edition was published, there have been significant changes in the legislation, several of which require reporting of specific crimes to the California Department of Justice. Those legislative changes and case law decisions affecting records managers have been included in this edition. We have expanded the scope of our records manual and include information on new justice data systems which are available to all California law enforcement agencies.

X-Ray Optics Jul 18 2022 The generation of radiation with well-defined frequency and wavelength, and the ability to precisely determine these quantities, are of fundamental importance in physics and other natural sciences. Monochromatic radiation enables both very accurate structure determinations and studies of the dynamics of living and non-living matter. It is crucial for the realization of standards of time and length, for the determination of fundamental constants, and for many other aspects of basic research. Bragg backscattering from perfect crystals is a tool for creating, manipulating, and analyzing x-rays with highest spectral purity. It has the unique feature of selecting x-rays with narrow spectral bandwidth. This book describes the theoretical foundations and principles of x-ray crystal optics with high spectral resolution. Various experimental studies and applications are presented and the author also addresses the development of instrumentation, such as high-resolution x-ray monochromators, analyzers, wavelength meters, resonators, and interferometers. The book will be a valuable source of information for all students and researchers working in the field of x-ray optics.

Top Managed Care Contracting Clauses Aug 27 2020 As a provider, your survival hinges on your ability to maximize reimbursements from managed care contracts and control access to agreed-upon discounts. But money lost at the time of service or through the collection process is often determined well before the patient ever comes through the door. In many cases, that money was lost back when the contract was negotiated. Top Managed Care Contracting Clauses: A Toolkit for Providers contains practical strategies and tools for any organization facing the prospect of negotiating a new managed care contract.

Psychophysics of Reading in Normal and Low Vision May 04 2021 Written by a leader in the field of low vision research, this book discusses the role of vision in reading, focusing on the reading performance of people with normal, healthy vision and people with impaired vision. The author describes the influence of physical properties of text on reading performance and the implications for information processing in the visual pathways. Providing an overview of seminal research, this book explores: different forms of low vision that affect reading, text characteristics that optimize reading for those with low vision, and principles underlying the legibility of text and guidelines for displaying text. Special topics include the role of the magnocellular pathway in reading and dyslexia, Braille reading, and fonts for highway signs. An accompanying CD contains reprints of the seminal series of articles by Gordon E. Legge and colleagues on the psychophysics of reading in normal and low vision, published between 1985 and 2001. This volume will be of interest to researchers and professionals in the area of low vision, including graphics engineers, HCI scientists, human factors specialists, low-vision rehabilitation specialists, ophthalmologists, occupational therapists, special education teachers, as well as cognitive scientists and perceptual psychologists. It is also suitable for advanced students with a background in the topic.
